Someone Who is Abusive Might Also:

- Make you do sexual things that you do not want to do
- Have bad attitudes about women
- Say they will get sex somewhere else
- Use alcohol, drugs or bad words
- Use scary gestures like smacking their hand on furniture or clenching their fist
- Say they will hurt you
- Be violent towards your pets or other animals
- Break things you or someone else owns
- Scare you or others

There are several ways a woman can be hurt by someone she cares about, for example:

Physical abuse is physical force against you such as slaps, kicks, pushes, punches, holding you down, blocking doorways, preventing you from using the phone or driving fast to scare you.

Emotional abuse is when your partner uses ways to hurt your feelings, such as calling you names, teasing you or telling you what to do.

Sexual abuse is when a partner forces you to do sexual things you do not want to do.

How do you know if your relationship is wrong and abusive?

Inside are some “early warning signs” that women who have been in abusive relationships said they experienced.
