Strategic Plan: 2021 - 2026

Open Hearts
Healthy Minds
Strong Communities

Q2 Service and Financial Report

November 17, 2021

Open Hearts, Healthy Minds, Strong Communities

We want compassionate hearts that are open to the many different needs and experiences of Toronto's residents.

We want minds that are healthy and that can thrive despite past traumas and adversity.

We want communities that are strong because their members are connected, active and resilient.

We want individuals and families in Toronto to have greater stability and resilience in more just and supportive communities.

To achieve this vision, FST will pursue a new series of strategic directions that build on our strengths:

- Our theory of change provides an integrated way of understanding the organization's activities and focus on the underlying forces of poverty, marginalization and discrimination that FST works to alleviate.
- Our three core service areas — mental health, family violence and developmental disabilities — remain exceptionally relevant and will remain the focus of our work.
- Our commitment to research and advocacy provides the organization with a distinctive public policy capacity that contributes to systemic change

Over the next five years, FST will pursue four strategic directions:

1. Significantly increase access to counselling and mental health services across Toronto.
2. Significantly reduce systemic barriers for women seeking justice and healing and increase community supports for families impacted by violence including those who use violence.
3. Deliver on the Passport 'promise' to enhance the quality of life for people with developmental disabilities and their caregivers, and lead the evolution of individualized account services within developmental services and beyond.
4. Become an indispensable source for applied research and social action that strengthens the community sector and helps us to understand and impact the root causes of poverty, discrimination and marginalization.

Foundational Strategies

We know that our ability to achieve our strategic directions depends on our ability to build strong foundations that support this work. Over the next five years, every FST team member will play a part in helping us to strengthen these foundations and deliver these commitments.
